Expert Witness Testimony

David has testified dozens of times in criminal and administrative court hearings in various cases as a police officer, with about twenty documented after becoming an SFST instructor, where the court recognized him as an expert witness on various DUI-related topics. After retiring from policing, David has testified in criminal and administrative court hearings in several jurisdictions in Colorado and Utah, as an investigator and more commonly as an expert witness in traffic-related cases. At the last count, this was about a dozen counties and over sixty times testifying as an expert witness.

Impaired Driving

DUI Training and Experience includes hundreds of hours of DUI investigation, drug & alcohol, and toxicology training. Formerly certified as an SFST instructor, I-9000 instructor, and DRE instructor, I taught the local police academy's DUI class for nine years, serving as lead instructor for most of that time. Conducted hundreds of investigations, including my own cases, assisting less experienced officers, and reconstructing other officers' cases.

Impairment Identification, using the three phases of a DUI investigation and the indicia of ingestion and impairment observable during those phases. Administering and interpreting basic, standard, and advanced sobriety tests (including horizontal gaze nystagmus) to determine any potential impairment of a subject. Then, investigate the cause of that impairment to determine if it's due to a medical condition or intoxicant ingestion.

Drug Recognition, using the signs and symptoms of drug influence (including alcohol) to recognize the drug category, or categories, potentially causing that influence. Plus, adding observations made during the administration and interpretation of available sobriety tests, followed by an interview with the involved subject, to reach a conclusion.

Toxicology

Chemical Testing starts with collecting a valid sample using the minimum standards for sample collection to obtain an evidentiary measurement of alcohol or drugs in the human body. For a breath test, the instrument used (i9000) should be properly maintained and operated in accordance with the relevant standards. For blood tests, collection, transportation, and testing follow strict minimum standards to ensure accuracy, which differ between clinical and forensic draws.

Pharmacology, using knowledge of Pharmacokinetics to understand how intoxicants are processed in the body, enables investigation into a subject's potential impairment. Additionally, using knowledge of pharmacodynamics to assess the potential effects of drugs on the human body, considering drug toxicology and drug tolerance.

Testing Equipment, a working knowledge of the devices used in breath testing, including both preliminary devices based on fuel cell technology and evidentiary devices based on infrared spectrometry, to determine breath alcohol levels, as well as their strengths and weaknesses in providing such results.

Vehicle Collisions

Crash Training and Experience includes extensive on-scene crash investigation experience and classroom or online training in Crash investigation and road safety, including police driver training. Certified as a level one crash investigator. Conducted hundreds of investigations, ranging from minor property crashes to serious injury and fatality crashes, including my own investigations, assisting other officers, and working with the agency traffic unit on reconstructions.

Roadway Factors using the observation of environmental and scene conditions, pre- and post-impact markings on the road surface, and property damage to determine the events of the crash scenario. This includes skid marks or other evidence used to estimate reaction times and vehicle speeds.

Vehicle Factors, using the internal and external observations of involved vehicles, including operational condition, damage sustained, and substance transfer or markings. Additionally, video recordings or other digital evidence available from the vehicle can reveal the events leading up to the crash.

Human Factors, including any bodily injuries, victim placement and strike points, driver and passenger statements, independent witness statements, witness viewpoints, and any digital recordings available to help determine the proximate cause of the crash.

Traffic Contacts

Traffic Training and Experience includes training at the police academy and during field training to conduct traffic stops safely and understand the reasons for the stop. A certified police officer who worked primarily on patrol with a focus on traffic safety and enforcement. I averaged about one thousand traffic stops per year during my career. I have assisted officers from my own agency and other agencies with their traffic stops.

The Colorado Traffic Code utilizes both state and municipal statutes to enforce moving, equipment, and administrative traffic violations and to conduct legal traffic stops for various purposes, including traffic enforcement, suspicious activity, drug Interdiction, and high-risk stops.

Police Process: using training and experience to understand how officers are taught to conduct traffic stops safely, from the initial violation through stop location prediction, approaching the vehicle, and conducting business at the vehicle. Including what indicators and behaviors to look for in a legal authority with vehicle occupants.

Depending on the case and testimony required, the endorsements tend to include the following:

- Expert in DUI investigations, identification of impaired drivers, the administration and interpretation of SFST & ARIDE sobriety tests, the DRE/DECP Evaluation Protocol, and the effects of drugs on the human body.
- Expert in traffic enforcement, the operation of radar & lidar units, visual speed estimation, traffic crash investigations, including property damage and injury crashes
- Expert in the collection of evidentiary toxicological samples, including preliminary breath tests, forensic and medical blood draws, and the operation and function of breath testing instruments such as the CMI I9000.

Colorado Counties qualified as an expert witness:

Mesa, Garfield, San Miguel, Teller, Adams, Jackson, Eagle, Pitkin, Larimer, Broomfield, El Paso, Routt, Boulder, Archuleta, and the Colorado Department of Revenue (DMV Hearing).

Utah Counties qualified as an expert witness:

Utah,

Work Experience

David has conducted over 1,000 impaired driving investigations, including taking the primary investigator role, assisting others to improve their skills, conducting drug influence evaluations, and post-incident reviews. Since working as an independent consultant, David has conducted post-incident reviews on hundreds more cases. Because David worked nights and weekends, he attended many vehicle collisions. He has attended over 1,000 crashes, serving as the primary investigator or assisting investigator. Collisions ranged from minor damage to fatal injury. When serious or fatal injuries were involved, the crash reconstruction team was called; David worked with them to investigate the incident.

Related Training and Study

David has attended over 1,500 hours of in-person and remote training to increase his knowledge of related topics, including Impaired Driving, Alcohol & Drug Impairment, Toxicology & Pharmacology, Medical & Mental Health, Traffic Safety, Vehicle Collision Investigation, Human Behavior, Court Testimony, Legal Case Law, Crime Prevention, Police Investigations, and other related Training. David also trained in various martial arts and self-defense disciplines and applied this training in real-life situations. He pursues continuing education in related fields to refresh and expand his knowledge, enhancing his ability to handle cases and provide compelling testimony.

Instructor Experience & Presentations

David has trained people using various methods, including one-on-one instruction, classroom instruction, and scenario-based training. He has employed books, graphs, PowerPoint presentations, videos, demonstrations, hands-on training, and other visual aids. He has used the provided presentations and created additional ones to meet training needs, and he has over 1,000 hours of instructional experience.
